Continued Improvements to Tennessee Alliance Property

We were finally able to get the heavy equipment back on the Alliance’s property for “phase two” fine grading, after installing silt-screen earlier this year, then spending several months in preparation, carefully hand-clearing areas with our chain saws and hand tools. More than two hundred tons of various-sized stone were trucked in to place on the graded road bed, and larger “rip-rap” stones were placed in the ditches to control erosion. The weather was dry and favorable for this work and on 25 September we spent the day hydro-seeding everything with a large, rented, pull-behind machine that sprays a mixture of seed, fertilizer, and binder from a 600-gallon tank with a high-pressure hose. During the course of the operation we filled the tank five times from a neighbor's pond, adding the seed/fertilize/binder mix with each tankful. Site preparation has cost a little over $18,000 so far, not counting volunteer labor and minor expenses. That is all paid for. We plan to bring our Ford tractor down to Tennessee from West Virginia in October so we can maintain the road and property ourselves going forward.

Cosmotheist Books

William Pierce, the founder of the Alliance, established the Cosmotheist philosophy/religion as the basis for the new consciousness that will ultimately supplant Christianity, a Semitic belief system that has had our people worshipping an alien god for centuries. We see ourselves as a part of Nature, subject to Nature's laws, and not subject to any superstitious, otherworldly Semitic creed from the Middle East. Exposing the detrimental effects of Christianity and its true history helps to liberate us, clear the ground, and pave the way for us to embrace the wholesome Nature-based truths we need.

Five new titles that address the problem of Christianity, arguably the biggest obstacle to White renewal, were ordered and have arrived at the National Office this month: The Origins of Christianity by Dr. Revilo P. Oliver; The Christ Myth by Nicholas Carter; Ben Klassen's Nature's Eternal Religion; The Founding Myth: Why Christian Nationalism Is Un-American by Andrew Seidel (hardback); and The Darkening Age: The Christian Destruction of the Classical Age. by Catherine Nixey.

And there's more: Two children's classics are Mark Twain's The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and a hardback edition of Heidi by Johanna Spyri. Also newly added are the over 600-page hardback biography of the great aviator and racial patriot Lindbergh by A. Scott Berg; the hardback edition of With Rommel in the Desert by his aide-de-camp Heinz Werner Schmidt; and Diana Preston's Lusitania: An Epic Tragedy. All titles are found here with prices and further descriptions: <https://cosmotheistchurch.org/shop/>

Sticker Activism

Chairman Will: September's activities here in the Quad and Iowa City included the distribution of at least 400 Alliance leaflets and business cards over the month on a daily basis. A certain rabbi has the National Alliance on his mind quite a lot these days as he mentions our local activities in his Facebook account. Some following the rabbi's words have used that platform to bluster threats about what they'll do if anyone puts our fliers on their cars or houses. To respond to our messages, the rabbi also gets his none-too-bright but well-heeled followers to donate so he can put up several billboards, and he encourages those tighter in the wallet to take a free lawn sign saying that they “welcome everyone” no matter who they are or where they come from. It’s nice that I’m welcomed, but since these well-meaning but soft-in-the-head people are indiscriminate in terms of quality, they’re encouraging criminal elements, welfare recipients, and diseased hordes to come live here.

With your permission I went ahead and ordered a printing of 5,000 of our “They can’t make White babies” fliers (pictured). They were delivered to me the other day and the quality turned out great. They are 4.25 by 5.5 inches in size. That’s a quarter of a sheet of paper; a good size. They have very good adhesive backing on them so they can either be distributed as is, without removing the backing, or by sticking where legally allowed. The idea behind ordering so many was to get a great discount for a large bulk quantity. The total came out close to $400 (8 cents each). In addition to distributing them myself, I will offer them to Alliance members and other activists at a reasonable markup to help fund more materials. A pack of 50 is only $8, 100 for $15, or 500 for $70, plus shipping for our members/supporters and others with a current active WhiteBiocentrism.com forum profile. 100% of funds generated will go towards local area activism. Want some? Contact me by private message at our WhiteBiocentrism.com forum to arrange payment and mailing/shipping information. — Jim Mathias, Iowa

Chairman Williams responds: The National Office is not in the position currently to stock large inventories of fliers, stickers, etc., so we are pleased that you’ve taken the initiative to undertake this worthwhile project, Jim. Thanks for sending the National Office a few so we can include one with each copy of this month’s BULLETIN. Activists are encouraged to register at our forum, if you haven’t already, and order some of these directly from Jim. We stock National Alliance business cards and What is the National Alliance? booklets, but have been depending on activists going to natall.com/fliers to print their own fliers. This Alliance flier is not a “hate” message at all; it succinctly states a biological fact that resonates with Americans who have had a bellyful of Third World non-Whites invading our living space and polluting our precious gene pool with impunity.

Activists distributed some of these and the Quad-Cities Fox News affiliate, Channel 18, reacted with mock alarm, using the headline: “Davenport woman finds a flyer on her lawn. Now, she sleeps with a baseball bat next to her bed.” Oh, my! — “terrorized” by a National Alliance sticker. Really? At least two other local controlled news outlets also reacted within a two-day period. You can read more (and some of it is hilarious) at nationalvanguard.org/2019/09/illinois-iowa-national-alliance-activism-makes-headlines-again saying that we are a “dangerous hate group” like they did in these “stories,” the thoroughly conditioned lemmings will believe them. But a few higher quality, independent-thinking Whites do not like the anti-Whites in their midst telling them what they must accept and what they must reject. They do like the straightforward Alliance message and will seek us out.

Correspondence

Dear Chairman Williams: Just a suggestion, but you should put a lot less about the court case in the BULLETIN and let us know when you win! There comes a time to rally for a legal cause. Keep in-house legal matters in house. The enemies/media and outsiders do not need to read about such matters in the Alliance BULLETIN (the above-mentioned do see the BULLETIN). As far as BULLETIN content; put articles (even older BULLETIN commentaries by Dr. Pierce) that help to clarify what is happening today. Also put older National Vanguard [magazine] articles, and articles from The Best of Attack! and National Vanguard book; and Dr. Pierce’s American Dissident Voices broadcasts [transcripts]. Future/prospective Alliance members need guidance and motivation. The Alliance has archives full of much-needed education for Whites. The Alliance owns it; keep using it. Just my opinion. Keep up the good work! — S.R., Virginia

Chairman Williams responds: I appreciate your opinionated feedback, S.R., and your suggestions for improving our BULLETIN. Half of our fight these days seems to be on the legal front, and we have been winning legal battles for the most part. My four-year struggle with a trumped-up misdemeanor criminal charge was tied to three failed civil lawsuits filed against the National Alliance in two states. I spent nearly the entire month of August preparing the comprehensive brief for my upcoming hearing before the West Virginia

Supreme Court of Appeals (WVSCA), so expanded last month’s internal, or “in house” BULLETIN to share what is really just a small part of that brief to give members an idea of what I have been dealing with. I knew some members would be bored by this, but some have told me they appreciated it. None of that is posted for public consumption. Whether I win or lose before the WVSCA, the final disposition of the matter will be reported in these pages for our members. The same with Jim Mathias’s case before the Iowa Supreme Court, Glen Allen’s $6.5 million case against the SPLC; the McCorkill case in Canada, and our NA v. McLaughlin counterclaim. There’s nothing much to report about any of those pending legal cases this month. The Assistant Attorney General who is representing the state of West Virginia in my appeal has until mid-October to respond to my brief. Should be interesting.

The BULLETIN is sent by first class mail each month exclusively to members and supporters in good standing; most court records are public so enemies and media can access them if they wish. They won’t learn much with which to distort and smear our Alliance from our BULLETINs, even if they can get their hands on one, because we generally report encouraging developments that do not appear online. We will generally not use the BULLETIN to reprint old NV articles, ADV transcripts, or much in the way of current news that impacts on our race — that is the function of our broadcasts, our online National Vanguard magazine, and our White Biocentrism forum. We will reprint sage advice from Dr. Pierce from time to time, like the parts of his "Thoughts on Recruiting" and "On Christianity" we feature in this issue — because, like you say, our activists need guidance and motivation, and the considerations surrounding recruiting new members who have Christian "spiritual baggage" fit the general theme of our BULLETIN this month. Members are expected to be our primary activists and recruiters of new members. As for your other suggestions about archived National Alliance material that you'd like to see in the BULLETIN, most of it can already be found online by searching nationalvanguard.org. And we'll keep adding content there as more material is digitized.

Our BULLETIN is the longest running, continuously-published pro-White monthly periodical extant — more than 45 years now, 50 if considering its predecessor, Action, the monthly publication for members of the National Youth Alliance. It provides an accurate chronicle of our organization's history, month by month. This issue is the 57th in as many months since I took over its publication. I'll try my best to continue informing our members and supporters each month about Alliance progress in these BULLETINs until another assumes the mantle without compromising on the fundamentals of our organization.

Dear Will: I want to tell my history with [Ben] Klassen. His book Nature's Eternal Religion made me a racist. I was in the hole in the Sandstone Federal Prison and Klassen read my book, The Score, then sent me NER in prison. Before that, I did not understand how to distinguish between a good Jew and a bad Jew. Klassen's book made me realize there was no difference. It was in the blood lines: a Jew is a Jew. I sent Klassen $10,000 from prison. After I became obsessed with Creativity, my wife would not visit me in prison, which led to our separation. I also read Mein Kampf in the hole, back to back with NER. I became racist and a National Socialist within those two weeks while in prison. Obviously, my wife was embarrassed being branded with these terms. I refused to budge.

...My family was of Polish peasant stock, and were not academics. They were athletic types, and my father fought and beat Rocky Marciano in an amateur Golden Gloves West Coast heavyweight boxing tournament. He was told not to go to Denver and open Cattle King [beef operation] because, "the Jews are smart people." I told him let the best man win. He and I had no idea of their power. As a rabbi said: the Poles suck anti-Semitism from their mother's milk. In the end, he still never read books, but was evaluating the genetics of live Jews he dealt with versus his blue-eyed Polish Aryan stock. — Rudy "Butch" Stanko, Nebraska

Dear Will: Greetings from JOG's vacation resort in California. Thanks for sending me the BULLETIN each month. Reading it raises my spirits knowing that you are keeping Dr. Pierce's vision alive. I salute you for the sacrifices you are making to do so. Speaking of Dr. Pierce's vision, I've enclosed a copy of the National Appeals Board's final decision on my parole. I thought you might find the reason given for backing the parole commission's denial of my parole of some interest. By the way, I have never renounced the goals of The Order. I have denied that I am a segregationist. I believe in total separation [of the races], not segregation. I also stated that I do not hold the same beliefs (Christian Identity) as I did when I joined The Order. I was found not guilty of the murder of Alan Berg and not guilty of aiding and abetting that deed. The parole commission at my final parole hearing stated that because of my beliefs there is a "reasonable probability" that I will violate the law if released on parole, therefore I must continue on to expiration of my [60-year] sentence. I have been eligible for parole since 1996; yet, because of my beliefs, parole is denied to me. And our Jewish-occupied government has the audacity to say America has no political prisoners...

On the brighter side, my health is excellent. I am in better physical condition than most of the guys in here half my age [71]. With that, I'm gone. Give my regards to all. Life does not look too good for Whites out there and especially White males, so take care and stay safe. 14 Words, — Richard Scutari

Chairman Williams responds: Richard has been a model prisoner for decades, but does not get the same consideration other inmates get when up for parole because of his strong racial beliefs. Among the reasons that the National Appeals Board upheld the denial of parole for Richard were “you share accountability for the murder of Alan Berg (though acquitted of those charges),” and that “you claim to have loyalty to the 14 Words and to Dr. Pierce’s vision.... Your adherence to these white supremacist views belies your claim that you have renounced the goals that members of The Order sought to achieve... You claim that you are no longer actively involved in these activities, but your communication with your ‘kinsmen’ at the National Alliance more than suggest otherwise.” A few words of encouragement from Richard’s “kinsmen” might be appreciated. Hi, Cap’n Will — Thanks for the quick response. I’m in special operations now and, while we’re separated by some years, it’s nice to know there are like-minded folk out there. I was reading through an interview of yours (<https://national-vanguard.org/2015/04/will-williams-taking-the-hard-line/>). You said: “[since] the military is now little more than a giant multiracial/unisex social experiment that has effectively been purged of White ‘racists,’ it’s hard to say to what extent that will affect our recruitment there. Less than half of the U.S. military now are White males.” This is accurate, certainly. In special operations, though, White males are, unsurprisingly, still the overwhelming majority — since, of course, these MOSs (Military Occupational Specialties) require physical and mental fortitude (spiritual fortitude — now that’s another matter). We still have the support MOSs that always seem to be largely — if not exclusively — non-White. What you say about moral courage (or its lack) has truth to it. Indoctrination (via the school system and perpetuated through the media) plays a big role in undermining any chance at broad awareness of the persistent issues. Those who might otherwise have the courage to act are either oblivious or constrained by societal circumstances, given the strange post-WW2 world.... The current atmosphere in the military is so oppressive that it’s nearly impossible to broach any social or political topic with honesty. God forbid one has ethnic pride (unless you’re non-Aryan/non-European), and, what’s worse, God forbid one believes in quality over quantity. There’s a sense of stoic resignation among many in the ranks — what are we waiting for? Israel’s wars, as you say. Certainly. One gets the sense that the only thing that could save us (and the planet) is a devastating global war — a war that wipes the stain of our racial and thus spiritual sins from the earth...

Our only recourse, then, is to carry the fire forward through our children who now will be born with their eyes open by the few... In this Age of Iron, the Kali Yuga, we stand closer to the resurgent Golden Age. The night, though, will darken before a new day dawns. But dawn it will. My main concern is with being a good husband and father. I don’t see a future in the leftist-bureaucratic oligarchy we see growing around us. I see a future in my blood, my kin, my family. Blood and family are everything. But the quality people who believe such things are typically the first to sacrifice themselves for the transcendent good; meanwhile, the quantities who shirk any kind of honorable action are the ones who live to multiply their unthinking, unspiritual genes all over creation. Nietzsche saw this: evolution is a disease, for “evolution” is really devolution. The weak live to breed another day because they haven’t the courage to stand up for anything that isn’t puppet-mastering. Hence, the rule of the International Clique prevails today. The Führer was the example for all Aryans. Rest assured, he will return, rising from the ashes the golems spread over the world. I’m supportive of the Führer’s cause. Take care, and feel free to publish my letter, Will. — M.F., (Special Forces soldier; via National Vanguard)

Dear National Alliance: I want to write just a few lines of thanks to you. I'm from a small town in Indiana. I wake up every morning thinking to myself: Are things ever going to get any better? All I see is everything becoming darker and darker. But the other day a nice man came to my house and talked to me about you people and told me I am not alone. He told me about the National Alliance. I wish that we could go back to the old days where being a White man meant something, but now I know that there is hope for me and many others thanks to you folks. May God bless you all for giving me and others hope for better days. Yours truly, — F.H., Indiana

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Thoughts on Recruiting Christians

This month, we will begin with Dr. Pierce's realistic, understanding, and fair view of recruiting Whites who accept Christianity into the National Alliance. It's from his BULLETIN commentary for April-May 1985:

...[T]here are the Christians who work to bring more non-White immigrants into America and smile on miscegenation, because they are true believers in the Jewish doctrine of race-suicide for the goyim; there are the lawyers, politicians, bureaucrats, and big businessmen who have no beliefs at all, but who calculate that they can advance their private interests by collaborating with the Jews; and there are the herd animals — including many policemen, teachers, military men, and small businessmen, as well as millions of ordinary citizens — who neither believe that Jesus wants them to bring a Haitian family to America nor aim to line their pockets by selling out their race, but who nevertheless collaborate actively with the Jews, simply because that's the way things are on TV, and they always go with the flow, unthinkingly. Are any of these people suitable Alliance recruits?

Consider the Christians: if there is one thing the Alliance needs it is true believers, people who act from motives other than self-interest. That certainly is a characteristic of many Christians, who are ready and willing to sacrifice personal interests in order to do whatever they think Jesus wants them to do. Some of these people also have good character traits as well — industry, thrift, honesty, reliability, diligence, courage. And there are Christians who wake up one day to the fact that Jesus has been taking them on a bum trip. As abhorrent as their former behavior may have been, they may then be prospects for the Alliance. A man or woman who has truly freed himself from Jewish doctrines — all of them — but who retains the nature of a true believer and has a good character as well may be among the most desirable and valuable of potential recruits. The essential thing to keep in mind in this regard is that ideology can override instinct, so that even a constitutionally sound person, when infected with an evil ideology, may engage in destructive and unnatural behavior, including race mixing. Most will remain permanently corrupted, but a few will not — and in the case of those few forgiveness for past sins is called for.

That commentary by Dr. Pierce to Alliance members in 1985 is still as relevant today as it was 34 years ago.

In keeping with the theme of recruiting Christians, one of my favorite BULLETIN commentaries from Dr. Pierce was the following, "On Christianity," from 1982. When I read his words, "Any Alliance member who is also a member of a church or other Christian organization which supports racial mixing or Zionism should decide now where he stands, and he should then resign either from his church or from the Alliance," that honest statement grabbed me like nothing I'd ever seen from other pro-White leaders. "On Christianity" was published earlier this month on NV — <https://nationalvanguard.org/2019/09/wlp86-william-pierce-on-christianity/> — and I'll share some of it here:

The National Office has received a few complaints (fewer than expected) from members about what has been perceived as an anti-Christian bias in recent issues of National Vanguard (NV). One member has resigned.

The complaints fall into two general categories: 1. "I am a Christian. Why are you attacking my religion?" and 2. "I am not a Christian, but many White people are. We must all stick together. To attack Christianity is divisive."

It should first be noted that the National Alliance is not primarily a religious organization — at least, not in the usual sense of the word, although most members are able to recognize the strong spiritual element in the Alliance's message. Second, it should be noted that the National Office is fully aware of the sensitive nature of the Christian religion, and for that reason NV avoided the question for a long time.

This avoidance, however, was in conflict with the Alliance's fundamental obligation to deal forthrightly with all issues of vital concern to the welfare and progress of our race. This obligation where Christianity is concerned has become especially difficult to ignore during the past few months, with the growing strength of the Moral Majority and other right-wing Christian groups and their active participation in political matters. The leader of that organization, the Reverend Jerry Falwell, has been outspoken in his support of Zionism, and he was recently given a Zionist award by Jewish leaders. There exists a clear conflict of interests for any Alliance member who supports such an organization, and the Alliance member should not compromise in matters of this sort.

This is not the place to deal at length with details of religious history and doctrine; NV will continue to have articles on these topics from time to time, and there will be such an article in the April issue. Here, however, a few things will be mentioned briefly for the guidance of Alliance members.

The most important single fact concerning Christianity with which the Alliance must deal is that all the major Christian churches, Catholic and Protestant, liberal and fundamentalist, have openly aligned themselves with the enemies of the White race. The Catholics and the liberal Protestants are vigorously supporting racial mixing, while the fundamentalist Protestants are strong boosters of Zionism. These alignments will become increasingly important factors in our struggle in the years ahead, as the churches become more and more involved in social and political issues.

The Jews have already announced their intention to mobilize fundamentalist Christians in their effort to maintain control of the U.S. government. The Alliance cannot remain silent in the face of such developments, for the sake of White unity or anything else.

No honest, conscientious Alliance member can maintain his membership in the Alliance and also in an organization which is fundamentally opposed to the goals and principles of the Alliance. The former member who belongs to the Moral Majority acted correctly in resigning from the Alliance, and the same applies to others: Any Alliance member who is also a member of a church or other Christian organization which supports racial mixing or Zionism should decide now where he stands, and he should then resign either from his church or from the Alliance.

In fact, the great majority of Alliance members who originally had some Christian church affiliation have already made their decisions and left the churches.

...If, despite everything above, there are Alliance members or prospective Alliance members who still consider themselves Christians, then it must be in the sense that they value the specifically White elements of Christianity which have been added since its origins — the great art, the great music, and the great architecture produced by White men during the centuries in which the Christian churches ruled Europe — and that they also share the White spiritual feelings which have been eloquently expressed by many men and women who were Christians and who applied the adjective "Christian" to feelings which, in fact, came from deep within the White race-soul and existed long before the advent of the Christian church.

Such Christians we can call our comrades and be proud to have in our ranks.

This commentary by Dr. Pierce impressed me greatly, and still does. I hoped that it would affect others the same way, so I published it as a one-page flier and distributed it widely in the early 1990s. When the Internet fell into our lap, I transcribed and digitized it and was able to share it with thousands more who were looking for an honest treatment of problematic Christianity. W. W. W.
